

Edward Connor Solicitors

Edward Connor Solicitors has been uniquely set up to offer specialised legal advice for Christian organisations and churches. We seek to provide advice that is both legally robust and biblically faithful.

We are looking for a senior charity lawyer to join our existing team. We are seeking an individual who is passionate about using their legal expertise to help Christian organisations be more effective in serving Christ.

Senior Charity Lawyer

This is a full-time position based either in Old Street, London, or in our Market Harborough office in Leicestershire (with occasional travel between the two offices). It would suit a qualified solicitor with 4+ years PQE who has expertise in providing charity law advice to clients or in acting as an in-house adviser to charities. You will supervise some other members of the team, and will report directly to the head of the charity team.

The ideal candidate will have a good general understanding of the kinds of legal issues that Christian organisations and churches are likely to face, and also some experience of supervising or mentoring others.

It is a requirement for this role that the person we appoint is an evangelical Christian who is committed to our charity's purposes – to see God's kingdom grow.

For an application pack, please email info@edwardconnor.com or telephone 01858 411568.

We are always interested in hearing from committed evangelical Christian solicitors who are eager to use their gifts for the growth of God's kingdom.
